

Narrow Escape
 "Extending to the end of my toes and to my brain!"
 "Which made me delirious!"
 "From agony!"
 "I took three men to hold me on my bed at times!"
 "The Doctors tried in vain to relieve me, but to no purpose."
 "Morphine and other opiates!"
 "Had no effect!"
 "After two months I was given up to die!"
 "When my wife heard a neighbor tell what Hop Bitters had done for her, she at once got me some. The first dose eased my brain and seemed to go hunting through my system for the pain."
 "The second dose eased me so much that I slept two hours, something I had not done for two months before. I had used five bottles, I was well and worked as hard as any man could, for over three weeks, but I worked too hard for my strength, and taking a hard cold, I was taken with the most acute and painful inflammation all through my system that ever was known."
 "I called the doctors again, and after several weeks they left me a cripple on crutches for life, as they said. I took a friend and he said I would cure me. I took a bottle of Hop Bitters, and I was well and worked as hard as any man could, for over three weeks, but I worked too hard for my strength, and taking a hard cold, I was taken with the most acute and painful inflammation all through my system that ever was known."
 "It has also cured my wife, who had been sick for years, and has kept her and my children well and healthy with from two to three bottles per year. There is no need to be sick at all. If these bitters are used J. J. BARKER, Ex-Supervisor."
 "That poor invalid wife, Sister. Mother, 'Our daughter'!"
 "Can be made the picture of health!"
 "With a few bottles of Hop Bitters!"
 "Will you let them suffer!"
 "Prosecute the Swindlers!"
 "If when you call for Hop Bitters, the dealer of Hop Bitters on the white label, the drug dealer hands out any stuff called C. D. Warner's German Hop Bitters or with other 'Hop' name, refuse it and show that druggist a bottle of Hop Bitters and if he has any more for the stuff, indict him for the fraud and sue him for damages for the swindle, and we will reward you liberally for the conviction."

BROWSING IN THE FODDERLAND
Four-Legged Facts Braided on the Pamed Laramie Plains.

Entertaining Sketches Bound in Calif. Gold Tinted and Illustrated With Canal Cuts.
 Special Correspondence of The Bee.
 LARAMIE, Wyo., June 9.—After leaving Cheyenne, the overland tourist begins the ascent leading to Sherman, the highest point reached on the Union Pacific road. On the way up the hill, Granite canon is passed, and from this point the view takes in the plains of Nebraska for a distance extending over hundreds of miles. At Sherman, the famous Ames monument is seen, built of granite taken from the extensive quarries in the vicinity, exceeding in quantity any on earth, and in quality being identical with the stone of which is constructed the ancient pyramids of Egypt. From Sherman there is a swift descent to Laramie, the "Gem of the Rockies," and the highest city of its size in attitude in the United States.

LARAMIE CITY.
 is this year enjoying a boom. It lies in the center of a natural mineral basin. On the east is the Black Hills range and across the fertile Laramie plains to the west is the backbone of the Rockies, comprising Red mountain, Jelm mountain and Sheep mountain, backed up by the Snowy range, with Long's peak and other mountains in Colorado, 180 miles distant, in plain sight.
 Laramie is situated on the east bank of the Big Laramie river, a stream that is at present swollen to enormous size by the melting snows in the mountains. Behind it lie the foothills of the great range of which Sherman is the summit. To the west is the vast expanse of the Laramie plains, bounded only by the eternal hills and the horizon.
 Laramie has the advantages of naturally graded streets, on each side of which flow streams of water as clear as crystal, comes from the solid rock in the hills east of the city and costs the city nothing, a perpetual right having been granted by the Union Pacific. Along the ditches are planted rows of trees, whose rich foliage adds greatly to the beauty of the town.
 Halliday's opera house is an imposing building, with the finest and one of the largest stages west of Omaha. South of the city, in the outskirts, volumes of smoke may be seen rising from daylight to dark from the immense black stack of the rolling mills, leased and run by Col. Fred Szymanski. Just beyond is the tannery built and run by S. H. Kennedy, formerly of Omaha. The skins of mountain sheep, coyotes, wolves, and sheep are to be seen here. A mile from the city limits are the Laramie brewery and the soda works. The soda works include about a dozen buildings, are larger than the Omaha smelting works, and cost the Union Pacific railway company about $85,000. These works were constructed under the direction of ex-Chief Engineer T. E. Siskles. The material from which the soda is worked up is taken from the soda lakes, four in number, located on the Laramie, North Park & Pacific road, thirty and one-fourth miles west of the city. The smallest of these lakes is forty acres in extent and the sulphate of soda in its natural state looks like ice, is fifteen feet deep, a subterranean river filling the lakes as fast as the soda is taken out.

 In August of last year a combination of capitalists and business men formed a corporation under the name of the Wyoming Central Land and Improvement company with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, of which $500,000 was subscribed without delay. The company numbers among its stockholders all the leading citizens of Laramie and vicinity, besides a number from other cities. Included in the list being A. Trabing, of Trading commercial company; J. H. Douglas Willan, an extensive stock grower; S. W. Dwyer, former congressional delegate, who has himself spent a fortune in developing the resources of Wyoming; R. H. Homer, H. K. Evans, H. G. Balch, D. C. Bacon, C. H. Hutton, E. A. Aho, all heavy stock raisers; Coo & Carter, the well known Omaha firm and others of equal prominence in business circles. To inaugurate the enterprise 620,000 acres of land being at all points around the city and sections in the United States grant to the Union Pacific railway company in Albany and Carbon counties were purchased and preparations made for selling the same, they having never had been previously placed upon the market. A large portion of these lands were occupied by ranchmen, who had made valuable improvements upon them, and these had to be readjusted. About a third of the lands have already been sold for a considerable advance on the purchase price, and applications are on file for more. The Douglas-Willan Sartoris company and Marsh & Cooper are the largest purchasers, having each taken about 50,000 acres. In the lands now owned by these companies are included the famous Laramie plains, lying between the Big and Little Laramie rivers and well known to stock men as the place where it was first found that cattle could live and thrive through the winter without care or protection. These lands have been hitherto given up entirely to grazing purposes, but they are now to be transformed into agricultural lands, with encouraging prospects of ultimate success. To obtain this result, the company has just finished the construction of which will bring under irrigation some 6,000 acres of land especially adapted to the raising of hay, roots, and the hard cereals. This ditch is taken out of the Big Laramie river, about twenty-five miles southwest of the town, and runs thirty-four miles in a northerly direction, finally discharging its surplus into the same river. At the start a seven feet wide on the bottom, carrying four feet of water, and gradually narrows to eight feet at the end, carrying one to a half feet of water. This canal is expected to have a pronounced effect in the future prosperity of the city and will make valuable lands which have hitherto been considered useless except for pasture. The company have other improvements in contemplation, which will be of great importance and will add materially to the prosperity and wealth of the territory. The Big Laramie river and its tributaries, the springs and lakes, have been stocked with trout and other fish, and it is no uncommon thing to go out and catch a supply of trout for breakfast. The Pa-zee-zee lakes, near Laramie, are said to contain

THE FINEST MINERAL WATERS
 in the world, with medical qualities unsurpassed by European springs.

BARN BURNING.

A Horse Burned and Property Destroyed by a Boy Playing With Matches.
 The alarm of fire yesterday afternoon was caused by the burning of the stable of Charles Keith, the general agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. The stable was situated near his residence on Graham avenue, and the fire caused by the little son of Mr. Keith, aged six years, who was playing about in the hay with some matches. Before any water or help could be had the flames had got under such headway that it was almost impossible to save any of the contents of the building, and the loss was a total one, including a horse, which was in the stable, and which was burned. The stable was recently built, and the loss will reach about $600, to cover which there was no insurance. The location of the building made it difficult to get any stream from the hydrants, and at was necessary to run hose from Seventeenth avenue, a distance of 1,000 feet, but when the hose was finally laid there was a good stream, notwithstanding that the lead of hose was so long, the longest line ever laid here in time of fire since the water-works were built.

PERSONAL.
 B. B. Bignall, of Chicago, was among those at the Ogden yesterday.
 Ex-Mayor Beach of Hamburg, was in the city yesterday on his way home from New York.
 Bob Flynn, everybody knows Bob, or ought to, was in the city yesterday sounding the praises of the Day Moline firm which he represents.
 Mrs. W. H. Trepner left yesterday on the Burlington & Missouri on a western trip and visits friends, expecting to be absent for several weeks.
 Mr. and Mrs. James A. Jackson with their daughter, Mrs. Wilson, leave to-day for Washington, Kansas, to visit friends there.
 The Rev. E. B. Hulbert, D. D., of the Union Theological Seminary, Chicago, will preach in the Baptist church Sunday at 10:30 a. m. The ordinance of baptism will be administered in connection with the evening service.

HONEY FOR THE LADIES.
 Satin ribbon is used for lacing draperies. Jackets for walking costumes are made like dresses.
 Sicilienne is used in combination with canvas or lace.
 Woolen grenadine parasols are trimmed with yak lace.
 Accordion platted skirts are still worn with or without overskirts.
 Brocade skirt is a novelty. The design of the brocade is quite small.
 Black satin parasols have a simple puffing of black tulle about the edge.
 Round waists will be worn in the streets with or without sleeveless jackets.
 Velvet collars, cuffs, vests and bretelles are worn with gingham and satens.
 Eru net with embroidery for dresses and draperies make very beautiful toilettes.
 Canvas worked with gold or silver is used for vests and sashes with black dresses.
 Carrie A. Burke, of Alton, N. H., has made a crazy quilt containing 3,608 pieces.
 The modern skeleton in armor is a bony woman encased in pads and deceitful drapery.
 Short sleeveless jackets with a deep collar in the centre of the back are worn with high or low cut dresses.
 Net plasatons and jackets are worn with colored silk skirts covered with lace flourishes and net draperies.
 Mice, it is said, are more afraid of women than of men. Very few women seem to be aware of this fact, however.
 Plastrons of black, white or colored net, trimmed with jet, gold or silver are very useful for brightening plain toilettes.
 Ottoman silk sashes, six inches wide, are fastened at the side. Those of greater width are fastened at the back in large loops.
 Boatrig dresses is a favorite material for tennis dresses, and can be had in blue and cream white. It is trimmed with large, soft cord to match in color.
 The Jewellers' Circular says that never in the history of jewelry in this country have colored stones, both gem and semi-precious stones, been more in request than now.
 The hair should be brushed and combed at night in a direction contrary to that in which it grows during the day. No result, in the dressing itself, is obtained.
 Gingham are made for the most part with single skirts tucked to the waist. A pretty style is front, broad tucks running horizontally in front, with plain, full widths in the back.
 Plain and pin-head check cambrics are combined for costumes, the bodice and skirt and fabric of the plain material, and the drapes, plastron, cuffs and collar of the check.
 Lawns with small figures are made up with open V-shaped bodices edged with lace and belted with soft silk of the color of the figure, or are finished with Swiss bodices in silk or velvet.
 Skirts of many dressy frocks are made of shot silks, over which are worn polonaises of rough surfaed satin, brocade in lace effects and finished of a color matching the tone of the skirt.
 The keynote of this season seems to be embroidery. It is used upon everything—dresses, bonnets, ribbons, laces, trimmings and fabrics of every description for under and outside wear.
 Sleeves of lace and muslin frocks, and in fact, of all summer dresses made of sheer fabrics are full in the armhole, with all the fulness thrown on top, producing the high-shoed effect.
 Moire silks are restored to fashionable favor. Some of the richest costumes sent out by Duressant from Paris are made entirely of the color of the silk.
 A Baltimore woman fired three shots at her husband from a distance of four feet without touching him. He is not especially curious, but we would like to know how she managed to try to kill a man.—(Boston Post.)
 Hats are not always worn upon going out of doors. At some of our watering places a woman may be seen wearing (any such thing) the entire season through if it pleases her, except for church, or to go out of a rainy day.
 Amber is the latest stone used in the summer fancies in jewelry. There are amber-headed ways—pins in hair, hanging tassels, or dagger shaped ones, and long, narrow pins for the throat composed of eight or ten amber stones set in gold.
 Elderly ladies can have their Llama lace shawl corners shaved and fitted in a short wrap effect without cutting them. The corners in front descend below the waist, the back corner is doubled under, folded behind the thin silk lining, and the lower edge of the wrap in the back is finished by narrow lace plaques.
 Neck fillings seem to have taken a new lease of life; they are mingled with loops of very narrow gilt braid, and varied in many ways, but all about the same taste for detail. Bonnets glitter with tinsel gauze and

Going Up Together.
 The Mercury rose from its little cell And a tear shone in its eye As it saw the sun, for it knew full well That the hour was near when it might die. It had long been having an easy time, But now must prepare for a lively climb.
 It sighed for the hours of leisure fled, And the price of life went by, And the latter passed on its way and said, "My friend, what mean that sighs?" "I heard you were ill some time ago," "Indeed, I believe you were very low."
 "Oh my health is good," said the Mercury, "As it wiped away a tear;" "It isn't my health that troubles me, But my climbing time is near." "And the light to think, when I climb so high, I shall be all alone, with no one near."
 "Oh please!" said the Price of Life, "Don't fret, But welcome your climbing weather; I never went back on an old friend yet. So we'll both climb up together; Climb as high as you like, I'll climb with you, And stay by your side all the summer through."

 She dresses him quite and made the corridor at Drury Lane. "How thoughtful," he said, "of the management to provide bottles of water in case of faintness among the audience." "The fire extinguisher," interrupted the attendant, "When a fire breaks out you throw a bottle at it, and you put it out." "Any kind of fire?" "Yes, big or little." "I'll have a look at that." "Please! but that's yours." "Why, yes, you going to give a sacred concert?" "Why, yes, we had it all arranged for next Sunday, and was to be lighted by the fire with hard gloves, and I was to be referred, and we were going to charge 25 cents admission to the barn.—(Detroit Free Press.)

 Keokuk has invited President Cleveland to visit that city July 4.
 "Love Sees No Faults," it has been said; but, when a woman is dragged down, enmeshed, waned, and a shadow of her former self, with never a cheerful word, she can be no longer beautiful. Mrs. J. M. Parsons may have been generous in her gifts, and endowed her with all the charms of her sex, but disease has crept in unawares and stolen the rosy from her cheeks, the lustre from her eye and the sunshine from her heart. But to be well again lies in your power. Take Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," it will cure you; thousands have been cured by it. Nothing equals it for all the painful maladies and weaknesses peculiar to women. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.
